Peter Duchin's music is compounded of a rich musical heritage—his father was the celebrated Eddy Duchin; a solid background—he studied with the famed Mme Arthur Honegger, widow of the great French composer; and a colorful range of experience—his musical activities have run the gamut from Debussy at Mme Honegger's, to Dixieland jazz on a houseboat in Paris, to Latin-American music in Panama, and the delightful variety of American dance music heard in this album.

With a style that is at once sophisticated and robust, with a definitive talent that is uniquely his own, Peter Duchin, his piano and orchestra, create a sound that becomes ideal fare for both relaxed listening and dancing.
